Dear Ed:

Pursuant to the scheduling order entered by the Court on February 24, 2010, the parties will complete briefing the dispositive motions on June 15, 2010. Accordingly, there is no need for the matter to be on the Court's motion docket on Friday as noticed by the ASHA. I assume this was an unintentional oversight of the ASHA. Please confirm that the ASHA will remand the matter from the Court's Friday motion docket and the matter will proceed pursuant to the Court's scheduling order.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Stephen
